Steve Feeney Productions can help. Just work out how much content you want copying and fill in this form. If you get stuck, give us a call on 07840 400 225 (daytime please)

Terms and Conditions

1. VHS quality deteriorates over time and number of plays. We can only transfer the quality that the tape plays. If we consider the quality is too poor, we will advise you so that we can discuss your options.
2. We recommend a maximum of 2 hours per DVD or Blu-Ray. To squeeze more onto a disc involves compressing data which will degrade the quality a bit.
3. Video recorded to VHS standard has approximately half the horizontal resolution of a DVD so there is little point in transferring to a Blu-Ray, which is an HD format, unless that is the only way you have of viewing the disc.
4. Video delivered on USB Drive will be delivered in HD format because this is the format most likely to play on Smart TVs.
5. DVDs will be delivered on a standard DVD-R disc in a DVD case with generic artwork. Customised artwork can be produced at an additional charge – see over for details.
6. We can take clips from multiple VHS tapes but this is time consuming and subject to a charge of £3.00 per clip.
7. More complex editing is available (after all, it's what we do) and charged at our standard editing rate – see over for details.
8. The delivered files will be archived for an unspecified time in case you want to order another copy but no long term guarantee is offered.
9. We do our transfers in batches so please allow up to 14 days for delivery.
10. Please look after your original VHS tapes. Don't rely on the post – please deliver and collect in person.
